

Propsposterous Plants

Roald Dahl invented many propsposterous plants, like the bong-bong tree that grows in Loompaland. Can you invent your own extra-usual tree, plant or flower?

Draw a picture of your propsposterous plant in the box below, and then give it a name and a short description. If you like, you can invent a Latin name for it too!

Look up the categories for ALL ABOUT TREES and PLANTS & FLOWERS in the Oxford Roald Dahl Thesaurus to find names for the parts of a tree or plant, and words to describe them. Then fill in the blanks below with the words that you find.

Example:

My propsposterous plant is called a dottyflower.

It has a woody stem, spiky leaves, and purple spotted petals.

Its Latin name is: Flora spottica.

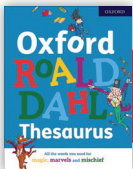

My propsposterous plant is called a _____.

It has _____, _____,

and _____.

Its Latin name is: _____.

Redunculous Recipes

The BFG has a surplus of snozzcumpers! Can you create a new recipe to help him use them up?

Look at the category for ALL ABOUT FOOD in the Oxford Roald Dahl Thesaurus to find words for COOKING FOOD and THINGS TO COOK WITH. Then fill in the blanks in the Redunculous Recipe Card below with some of the words that you find.

PLEASE NOTE: There are no right or wrong answers, so just choose words that you like and that fit in the sentences below.

Finally, think of a redunculous name for your dish to put at the top of the card—for example Snozzcumber Soup or Snozzcumber Sizzle!

Redunculous Recipe No. 1

SNOZZCUMBER _____

Ingredients:

1 snozzcumber

Method:

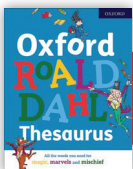

First _____.

Add _____.

Then _____ for _____ minutes.

Giant Wanted!

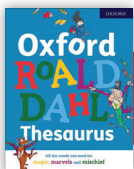

One of the giants has escaped from captivity! Can you draw a WANTED poster to help track him down?

Draw a picture of a murderful giant in the box below and then label the parts of their body to help human beans identify them.

Look up the categories for ALL ABOUT BODIES and ALL ABOUT GIANTS in the Oxford Roald Dahl Thesaurus to find words for BODY PARTS and how to describe them. Then add your own labels to your picture.

Be sure to use interesting adjectives to describe each body part. For example, your giant might have thirstbloody piercing eyes or foulsome yellow teeth.

Weather for Wonka

Willy Wonka needs to know what the weather is going to be like before he sets off in the Great Glass Elevator. Can you predict the weather for him and write a forecast?

Look up the category for ALL ABOUT THE WEATHER in the Oxford Roald Dahl Thesaurus to find words to describe various types of weather. Then choose words to fill in the blanks below.

This morning will be _____ and _____ .

On the coast, there will be some _____ overnight.

Tomorrow, there could be _____ and _____ .

But we can look forward to _____ weather at the weekend.

Now draw a picture of a weather map in the box below and add symbols and labels to show the weather patterns in your forecast. For example, your map might show blustery storms in one area and overcast skies in another.

You can draw a map of your own area of the country, or a map of an imaginary place like Loompaland or Giant Country.
